

Bad Boy Syrah

Vin de France

Global warming is knocking on our door and Jean Luc Thunevin wanted to test how a grape variety from the South of France was doing in the Bordeaux area

Well... it's doing well ! The plantation took place in 2010 and this variety has found its rythm

This plot is located on a slope limestone terroir, near Château Valandraud's own vineyard

First vintage :2014

#badboywine

Technical informartion

Surface : 1ha

Alcoholic fermentation in 500 L barrels and stainless steel tank

Ageing 12 months in 500L barrels (70%) and new barrels(30%)

Consultant oenologist : Jean Philippe Fort, LaboratoireRolland

Production: 3 000 bottles

Ratings

Vintage 2014

Wine Advocate : 85-87/100

Exclusive distribution by Thunevin Sas

Tasting Notes

The Bad Boy "Syrah" 2014 actually has a more complex and appealing bouquet than the regular Bad Boy bottling with attractive floral, violet notes blossoming from the glass and expressing the variety with style. The palate is not quite on the same level as the aromatics, but it is nicely balanced with plenty of cocoa and dark chocolate to enjoy on the finish. It's just a fun Bordeaux wine - no more, no less.

Neal Martin The Wine Advocate